THE BEE HIVE. New Dress Goods

FOR FALL

One customer, who is a competent judge, after giving our Dress Goods stock a thorough and critical inspection, frankly remarked that after visiting many stores and examining their stocks of Dress Goods, she could find nothing in this vicinity that in any way compared with ours. We believe this to be the opinion of not only scores but hundreds of people. You'll agree with the others if you'll but give our Dress Goods' stock a look.

At $20. there is a great line of Serges and Novelities of regular $30. value. At $30. there is roll after roll of black, figured and colored Novelty Goods, which is about the price the ordinary dealer pays for 'em, a saving to you of at least $5. a yard.

We have made a great effort to have the very best Crepon at $1 that could be procured and have succeeded. Other Crepons at $1.35, $1.50 and $1.65. Some of these come in black and the new shades of brown and green.

And then there are Venetians, English Suitings, Cheviots, (in the new rough effects) high-grade Serges and Hosierys, all at prices that mean a saving to you of at least 25 per cent.

A great and choice stock indeed and well worthy of your early inspection.

ROSENAU BROS.,

KINGS OF LOW PRICES.

PROPRIETORS BEE HIVE.

READ NO NEWS.

Oh, bring the news, mother.
The big one bound in red.
Likewise a magnifying glass
To show the letters spread
Across the paper.
Where cross-cross lines confuse,
For I'm going to read the news, mother;
I'm going to read the news, mother;
And pray do not neglect, mother,
To get a gazetteer.
These words are saidy queer,
It's a careful undertaking
And it's giving me the blues,
But I'm going to read the news, mother;
I'm going to read the news, mother;

Miss Bessie Owens's dinner party last night was a beautiful one. The arrangement of the table, the soft, mellow lights streaming through tinted, shaded candles and the beautiful and beautiful of the room in its prominence the greater beauty of the guests, who upon this occasion were the foremost ones to be found in any Lexington.

Here at the head was the hostess, delicate in a toilet of dainty organdie of pink, her exquisite head and shoulders, beautiful eyes and animated features forming a picture which was a study any artist would raprapture to copy.

Miss Armstrong, who sat at the seat of honor, is a Lexington belle, daughter of the noted Central Kentucky lawyer, who has inherited her father's brilliant conversational powers and is possessed of an inherent quality of loveliness which make her a much admired figure in any social function or center.

The viands were served in courses, supplemented with substantial and entree, which, with their silver fringing and exquisite arrangement, gave zest to appetite and enjoyment to the very beautiful feast.

They Are Now in Conference at Flemingsburg.

PROCEEDINGS OF YESTERDAY.

Special Correspondence Public Ledger.

Friday, Sept. 15, 1898.

The seventh-month session of the Kentucky Conference of the M. E. Church, South, met in the Methodist Church at Flemingsburg on Wednesday morning, September 14th, with Bishop J. G. Gabrally of Albany, Pa., presiding.

After the reading of the 17th chapter of St. John and prayer by the Bishop, F. S. Pollitt, former Secretary, called up roll, when about 60 members answered to their names.

The session was taken up with the appointment of committees, the reading of reports from the several Conferences, Bonds, then the names of the veteran supernumeraries and supernumeraries were called and their character passed.

The announcements were then made and the Conference adjourned at 12 o'clock for dinner.

The services are being held in the Methodist Church, which has been specially prepared for the occasion.

Flemingsburg, at all times a delightful place to visit, is at the present time in full dress, extending to all visitors a hearty welcome.

There was preaching at 3 p. m. by H. G. Turner of Carrollton.

The anniversary of the Educational Society was observed last evening at 7:30. The speeches were short on the several phases of college work.

There are within the gates of this beautiful little city at this time at least three hundred strangers.

This morning will follow with Conference session, beginning at 9 o'clock.

The sessions will grow in interest from day to day, while the large list of visitors will be added to.

This is the third session of the Conference held in this city. The first was held in 1862, the second in 1882. Dr. H. Hiner, S. Speer and G. S. Savage are among the oldest members present.

Dr. Joseph Rand, who was expected to preach the semi-centennial sermon at this session, was not able to come on account of the illness of his wife. Mr. Rand entered the Ministry in this city fifty years ago this month.

Twenty Stories About Mark Twain.

Mark Twain is the most famous person to be "quodded" by the Ladies Home Journal, and the magazine's closest friends have sent to the magazine for its next number some twenty old stories about him, none of which have ever been printed. They are, of course, of the droll sort, but not more funny than the "unpublished" pictures of Mark which his friends have also loaned the magazine. These, too, have never been printed.

MORE RAILROAD.

C. and O. Contemplate Extending its Line in Eastern Kentucky.

A special from Inez says that a committee of business men from that place has been in conference with the officials of the C. and O. at Cincinnati to trace the extension of the Big Sandy River Railroad through Johnsons, Ford and Pike counties into the spring.

The returned emigrants report that the C. and O. people were very courteous, and agreed if the owners of the Big Sandy Railroad did not commence on the extension by fall that they (the C. and O.) would begin the work next spring, provided a sufficient number of carloads of coal would be furnished them.

This was agreed to. The C. and O. authorities said they would make the survey this year and commence work of construction to the mountain breaks in Pike county early in the spring.

This extension will create a boom in that part of Kentucky and open up one of the finest coal and oil fields to be found anywhere in the world.

New houses on mineral properties have already become popular, and many old ones are being renewed.

SHOES!

The results in our Shoe Department, though not a year old, are gratifying to us and fully as much to our shoe patrons.

"The most comfortable pair of shoes I've worn for years" is the universal expression of those that wear them. Our $2.50 and $3.50 Smith & Stoughton French Calf Common Sense Shoes are the best in the market.

Every pair we sell is made for us by the Hart-Packer people, Brockton, Mass. All the long felt wants in Mayville's shoe trade. We are daily receiving our fall stock in these lines. If your summer shoes are about worn out or you think it late to buy lightweight footwear we can fit you in the coming style of Fall Shoes. Respectfully,

Dainty beauty and cozy comfort come from the looms at wonderfully small prices.

Womanizing is conjuring all sorts of wearables from the pretty cotton stuffs everybody knows as Flannels.

TO THE PEOPLE.

A Manifesto Issued by the Council of the So-Called Provisional Government.

AN ORDER TO MILITARY COMMANDERS.

They Explain the Duties of the Cubans Towards the United States and Towards Themselves.

Another Assembly Will Be Called, Which Will Determine Their Future Course—The Manifesto Gives the reasons why Proposed Assembly should Meet.

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, Sept. 15.—The council of the so-called provisional government of the republic of Cuba, met at Santa Cruz on September 14 and formulated a manifesto to the Cuban people, with an order to the military commanders of the Cuban army, both of which have been promulgated.

The manifesto, which is the history of the movement for Cuban independence and the principles upon which the Cuban people have fought for their liberty. It proceeds in parts, as follows:

"Though the principal object of our revolution has been obtained, that is, the destruction of Spanish domination, the work of this council is not yet at an end, for the Cuban people have not yet obtained the rights which they have fought for. Now that hostilities have ceased and Spain has renounced her sovereignty, it is the duty of this council to set before the Cuban people the feelings and purposes of the men who made the revolution.

"We always felt confident that through our own perseverance we would in the long run destroy Spanish domination; but we must acknowledge that an indefinite prolongation of the struggle would have annihilated the little that was left of our wealth and population. The entrance upon the field of a powerful and decisive factor, upon which we have always relied and toward which the hearts of all Cubans have always turned, has put an end to the horrors of war, to the benefit of all concerned.

"This prompt solution we must acknowledge we could never have obtained. It is proper to acknowledge the evident truth. This is the best title the United States has to our gratitude. We were abandoned by the world, some nations ignoring us through selfishness, others ignorant of our real condition, considering us as obstinate and ungovernable people because we did not accept the cajoleries and flatteries with which Spain tried to soothe our just anger.

"This was our situation when the people of the United States, their government and Congress came to our rescue and took upon themselves the task of delivering us at once from an unbearable yoke, as our sufferings could not be endured or permitted longer. They have accomplished their program brilliantly. What is more, they have liberated, in one way or another, from the rule of Spain all peoples oppressed by her. The liberation is definite and irrevocable. Spain has been expelled from this hemisphere.

"We are grateful. In nations as well as in individuals, gratitude is ennobling. As we begin now our national life we, more than any other people, must be jealous of our national honor. It is therefore, the duty of this council to explain to the people of Cuba what is their option, are our duties toward the United States and towards ourselves and what are the rules that ought to direct our conduct.

"When, after a long struggle, the United States recognized the right of the people of Cuba to be free and independent and ordered the Spanish forces to withdraw from the island, no Cuban government was recognized; but the one we had constituted, though not recognized, was not opposed and has not been opposed. No steps have been taken to alter the place where it exercised its functions, nor has it been considered an illegitimate authority which prevents having been acknowledged or destroyed for the good of the people of Cuba.

"It could not be otherwise. The United States could not interfere in our struggle for the sake of what our enemies might consider a political fiction. The United States could not intervene for the benefit of the whole people of Cuba, a part of whom, being under Spanish rule, was not under the protection or a preference. The intention of the United States was that, as soon as the attitude of Spanish troops was changed, the whole Cuban people should choose a government that would shape the destinies of the island.

"The people of the United States have all along appreciated the fact that the majority of the people of Cuba is in sympathy with the principles; for the motto of the United States government has been the same as our own—absolute independence of Cuba. Under these conditions, the Americans could not take a hostile attitude toward us or consider our authority illegitimate and harmful to the welfare of the Cuban people.

"These considerations have convinced us that we should not dissolve and that the powers we have received from an assembly elected by the people under arms should not vanish. On the contrary we feel that we should remain as a nucleus and guide for those who have vested such power in us.

"We have therefore decided to call together another assembly, which will determine our future course.

In conclusion the manifesto gives a number of reasons why the proposed assembly should be convened and some government or another chosen, "not with the character of a government as yet, but as an official representation of those Cubans who fought against Spain and of those who, in the midst of the revolution, control and in foreign countries, have helped and supported them."

TRAOBLE FEARED.

Deputies Guarding Mines in the Pittsburgh District and Miners are Camped Nearby.

AN OUTBREAK IS EXPECTED SOON.

Arrangements Made for the Importation of Negroes to Take the Places of Striking Miners.

The Miners March to the Gallatin Mines and Induce a Few Working Miners There to Stop—The Fight Will Be Extended to the Fourth Pool.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 15.—Serious trouble is feared in the third pool because of the struggle for the enforcement of the Chicago coal mining agreement is ended. The mines are guarded by deputies and the strikers are encamped in the neighborhood. Arrangements are being made for the importation of Negroes to take the places of the strikers and an outbreak is then expected. Tuesday night two Slaves were ordered off the company's property at the Gallatin mine by a special policeman on duty there, and before retiring one of them fired several shots at Deputy Hayward, who put both men under arrest. They were locked up and are awaiting a hearing.

The miners' officials claim that the shooting was done by the guards.

ACCEPTS THE TERMS.

Both Houses of Parliament Pass the Bill Accepting the Protocol and the Queen Signs the Document.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—In official quarters much satisfaction was expressed Wednesday over the reports from Madrid that the lower house of parliament had passed the government bill accepting the terms of the protocol. The upper house already has passed this measure, so that the last fear of legislative opposition to the transfer of Cuba, the Ladronera and Porto Rico is over. The authorities here feel that this carries them by a dander point.
